SKILLED PATHWAY: SUBCLASS 485 GRADUATE WORK STREAM

Envirotech Education provide three pathways and packages for students graduate visa: Sustainability, Marine Conservation and Commercial Cookery.

The 485 Visa is for international students who apply shortly after graduating with skills and qualifications that are relevant to specific high priority occupations, representing labour shortage, required in Australia.

This visa lets you live, study and work in Australia temporarily, and if further conditions are met (e.g. employment, English, under 50 years of age, etc.), graduates may be eligible to continue with further skilled or employment visa pathways.

Currently, international students who studied on a Student Visa Subclass 500 in Australia over 92 weeks in courses that are highly related to their nominated occupation, accumulated required professional work experience, met age, skills, English, health, and character criteria may apply for the Visa Subclass 485 under the GRADUATE WORK STREAM for occupations listed as priority skills.
